

Meet Your Bookkeeping Fairies (Yes... They're Real and They're Here to Help You Run Your handmade Business Without Crying Into Your Yarn)

A whimsical dimension where financial clarity has wings... and drinks coffee.

Let's introduce you to your new "enchanted" sidekicks.

Penelope Profitwing — The Fairy of Pricing Confidence

Penelope's whole vibe?

Making sure you stop pulling numbers out of thin air like a stressed-out yarn wizard.

She perches on your shoulder with a calculator wand and whispers things like:

"Your time matters, sweet pea. Charge accordingly."

When you doubt yourself, she reminds you:

💡 Materials × 3 is NOT a real pricing strategy.

💡 Your hourly rate should be higher than the minimum wage.

💡 You're running a business, not a charity craft booth.

She's tiny, sparkly, and slightly bossy — but only because she loves you.

Role: Makes sure makers STOP undercharging by spinning yarn into price tags.

Signature Line:

"Your time is not on clearance."

She gently nudges you to:

- Keep receipts
- Stop pretending estimated taxes don't exist

She does not judge you for saying, "I'll do it later," but she absolutely blows glitter in your face until you do it anyway.

Role: Sorts receipts at supernaturally fast speeds & knows 17 things you forgot to write off.

Signature Line:

"Yes, that's deductible. No, that isn't. We don't speak of the third thing."

- ✦ And your pricing magically stops being a dumpster fire

She fights the COGS confusion monster daily... and she wins.

Role: Helps makers understand what things really cost... and sighs gently when they don't.

"Coffee first. Then COGS."
